Five CIRUNA Delegates in St. Louis For Midwest United Nations Assembly

By Sue West

Five members of the Missouri Southern CIRUNA Club are in St. Louis this week representing the school at the annual Midwest Model United Nations Conference. Delegates are chosen each year from a list of applications by a faculty committee of the Social Science department.

The delegates departed yesterday for St. Louis and the Sheraton Jefferson Hotel where regular sessions will be held today through Saturday. They will return Saturday night.

Don Hoobs is head delegate and delegate at large. Other delegates are Richard Stiles, social, humanitarian and cultural committee; Linda Brown, special political committee; Curt Baker, political and security committee, and Jim Rust, trusteeship committee.

This year Missouri Southern is representing the country of Yugoslavia in the General Assembly. Delegates are instructed to vote as the Yugoslavian delegation to the United Nations would on the issues. Some of the topics to come up for debate are the Middle East problem, the admission of Red China, international control of drugs and the situations in South Africa and Southern Rhodesia.

Purpose of the Model United Nations is to give students an opportunity to work on real problems that face the world community. The students submit resolutions to the mock General Assembly that they feel would solve the problems of the General Assembly in New York. It also supplies practical experience in the functioning of the world organization.

Mrs. Anetta St. Clair is attending as the group sponsor.

Southern MISL Delegates Sponsor Four Bills Okayed by District Convention Held on Campus

Miss Jo Ann Brazeale was elected Chairman of the 7th District of the Missouri Intercollegiate Student Legislature, Inc., during the district convention held here Feb. 14. A sophomore at Southwest Missouri State College in Springfield, Miss Brazeale is Vice President of the SMS chapter of the Young Democrats.

Miss Brazeale was nominated for the position by Bob Hasleg, President of her organization. A seconding speech was made by Herb Gailey, President of the Missouri Southern Y.D.'s. She defeated Tim Hughes, the Republican candidate, who placed his own name in nomination. Hughes is the Executive Director of the College Young Republicans and sergeant of arms of the Jackson County Y.R.'s. The new vice chairman is Steve Breyer, Republican from SMS.

The convention was coordinated by Audrey Burtrum, the outgoing chairman, and Stan Garber, the outgoing vice chairman, both students at MSC. The secretary was Janet Hutton, and William Gessler served as parliamentarian. Other MISL officers attending were Dave Backs, attorney general and president of the SMS Young Republicans, and Michael Box, auditor and a Democratic delegate from SMS.

The opening address was given by Miss Burtrum, and Tom Short welcomed the visiting delegates to Missouri Southern. Short, who is a member of the Y.D.'s, took that opportunity to formally announce his candidacy for the office of MISL lieutenant governor.

Guest speakers were Democrat Leo Schrader, 135th District Representative to the

Bus Trip To Bolivar Game Planned

The College Union Board will sponsor a bus trip to the Southwest Baptist College game, last contest for the Lions in season play, at Bolivar, Mo., Feb. 24. The bus will leave the main parking lot at 5 p.m.

All persons interested in attending the Southwest Baptist game must sign up in room 100 of the College Union, no later than noon, Monday, Feb. 23. The cost of the trip will be $1.50 per person for a bus ticket. Tickets for the game must be purchased at the door.

Jo Ann Brazeale
MISL Dist. Chairman

Missouri House, and Republican Roger Hoyt, a candidate for that seat and an instructor at MSC. Schrader spoke on the role of the legislator and his relationship to his constituents.

Hoyt placed his emphasis on what he called "quality politics." He remarked that partisan politics are at fault for many of the problems in the government today.

Four legislative bills were approved by the convention for submission to the General Assembly. Carter Leffen, Republican delegate from MSC, introduced a proposal making it mandatory for motor vehicle operators to pass an examination testing reflex capabilities, a practical examination and a hearing examination before being reissued a drivers license. Joe Leonard, Vice President of the Southern Y.D.'s, presented three bills to the convention. The first provides for a state lottery to be established by a commission appointed by the governor. The revenue collected from this would go into the general fund. A second proposal calls for the repeal of the existing state "Blue Laws" and the third asks for the legalization of horse racing with paramutual betting in the state of Missouri. Bills defeated either in party caucus or on the floor of the convention called for more stringent regulation of automotive repair shops and mechanics, the application of existing state marijuana laws to alcohol and granting the franchise to all active servicemen regardless of age.

The district convention was held in preparation for the MISL General Assembly which will meet in Jefferson City April 30-May 2.

Taking Initiative

Why shouldn't Missouri Southern College take the initiative and implement a revised school calendar, one which would allow students to finish final examinations BEFORE leaving for Christmas vacation?

Why should Southern wait and see what other schools in the state are going to do when we've got a college across town with a calendar described above.

We are a relatively new state college with "newness and freshness" all around. Why should we wait for the older institutions to make the first move?

It seems state schools live and die on what the University of Missouri-Columbia does. What do we owe them?

A poll of Southern students taken by The Chart during the fall semester showed an overwhelming vote FOR such a calendar change. As mentioned before on these pages, several schools have tried the innovative schedule with success. It does involve an earlier starting time in the fall, but that's not much to pay, when you receive a long, restful vacation at Christmas without the stigma of finals hanging over your head when you return. Under the calendar change we would plunge right into the second semester.

It's too late for such a change to be made for the fall semester, we are told, but the proposal should be kept alive. We need a commitment from the administration, one way or the other.

The Senate studied and favored the change. The Chart polled 272 students with favorable reaction. Now we pass the proposal to the authorities. Such a change in the calendar is desired and should be made.

Marijuana Legalization Gets Okay From Students

Marijuana and marijuana laws have been under heavy attack in the United States. Concentrated investigations of the drug problem have been made by Federal and State Governments and laws regarding the use of marijuana are being examined and re-evaluated in several parts of the country. Missouri Southern College students were asked the question: "Do you think the use of marijuana should be legalized in the United States? Why or why not, and if it is, should there be any restrictions placed on its use?"

Burt Lynn Jones, Joplin senior — "Yes, because it would cut down on a helluva lot more social problems by being legal than the present laws do."

Renee Riesenmy, Carthage junior — "Yes, I do, because if it was legalized, organized crime would lose a big source of their income. Marijuana isn't harmful to your body and there really is no reason for it not to be legalized because of health problems."

Carol Flaker, Carthage junior — "Yes, because being illegal it just jacks up the price and I can't afford it."

Bill Harris, Carl Junction junior — "Yes, because everyone does it anyway. I think the legal age should be 18 and there should be a restriction on driving while smoking, the same as with liquor."

Judy DeArman, Joplin senior — "If it were legalized, I think the same people that use it now would still use it and those who don't, probably still wouldn't. If it is legalized, there should still be restrictions on it like there are for the misuse of liquor."

PeeWee Young, junior from Aliquippa, Pa. — "I feel a person should be able to do his own thing. Eighteen should be the age limit. I don't smoke."

Bill Adams, Altoona, Pa., junior — "I agree for the same reasons as PeeWee."

Jeff Jackson, sophomore from Atlanta, Ga. — "I think it's up to the individual. The age limit should be 18. Right now the penalties are too severe."

Vicky Philliber, Joplin freshman — "No, there would be a great social problem created by its legalization. Restrictions would have to be enforced and we would have the same problem as we do with liquor."

Roger West, Joplin senior — "Although marijuana may have detrimental effects, such as liquor, I do not believe the effects will be as bad as liquor. Although the country would probably be better off without marijuana, it would be impossible to eliminate it now. Because of this and the fact that I do not believe it is any worse than liquor, I feel it should be legalized. It should have restrictions placed on it the same as liquor. If it is not legalized, the penalties for possession of marijuana should be reduced."

Tom Neely, Carthage senior — "I feel that if one has the legal right to use alcoholic agents, which cause him to escape reality, he should have the same legal right to use marijuana. A person using marijuana should be subject to only himself. It is up to him to find out if he is capable of controlling himself — if he can't, it is up to civil authority to prevent him from becoming a nuisance to the general public."

"I feel that laws regulating age of maturity are the most ridiculous laws in our nation. The function they serve now is apprehension of one's 18th and 21st birthdays. Unless strict enforcement is expected, there is no use for such laws."

"Finally, it is one's head that is going to be affected. If you don't really have one, I suggest you find it first, before you go trying to lose it."

Roundball Pride

No one could dare say Missouri Southern doesn't have school spirit. No one, that is, who has attended recent Lion Pride basketball games.

And can you believe it? Even the adults are fired up! They can jump up and down, scream and holler, and chant the cheers, too.

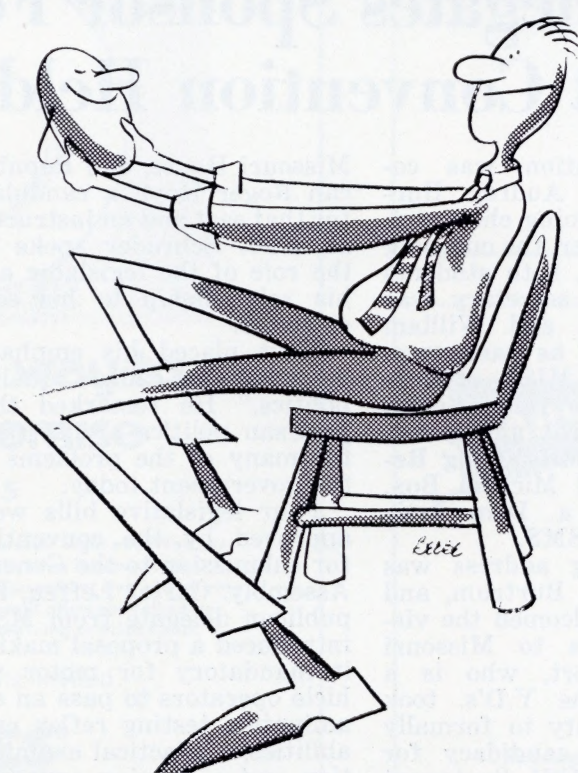

Southern has a tremendous team this year. The squad has fought hard, has earned, and certainly deserves, our continued support.

Make an effort, if possible, to attend an out-of-town game. A familiar face in enemy territory can do wonders to boost the morale of the team.

Interpreter's Theatre Production, Spring Show Tryouts Scheduled

Next week two separate tryout sessions will be held at the Barn Theatre for future theatre productions. On Monday, Feb. 23, tryouts will be held from 3 to 5 p.m. for the cast of an interpreter's theatre.

The script is an original one containing numerous selections from literature, poetry, current news items, songs, philosophy and dramatic literature. The show presently is scheduled for four performances; one on educational television for the Media Fair in April, a performance at the Women's Club for the 20th Century Study Club on Mar. 17 and a presentation at Missouri University Mar. 21 for the Hawthorne Festival, an interpretation festival devoted to collegiate interpretation of prose, poetry and dramatic events.

An appearance is planned at Southwest Missouri State College at the end of April for the Ozark Interpretation Festival. Each reader also will be responsible for interpreting individual material for the events at the festival.

On Wednesday, Feb. 25, tryouts will be held from 3 to 5 p.m. for the spring children's production, "Many Moons." Written by James Thurber, the script is a comedy fantasy for children. The story is of a young princess who is sick at heart because she cannot have the moon. The king offers a large reward for the person who can cure the princess. The play depends upon the fantasy and fairytale elements for its effect.

Directed by Mrs. Joyce Bowman, instructor of speech and drama, the show will be presented in April.

The Barn's doors are always open to new people and all students are welcome to try-out no matter what their major. Both productions afford excellent opportunities for stage experience.

Senate Action

At the Feb. 5 Student Senate meeting, Rick Call, president, announced that the school calendar would not be changed for the fall semester next term. The senate previously had urged that the calendar year be changed so that the fall term would end before the Christmas vacation. However, Call reported, after talking with Dean Phinney, that the change would not take place before the fall of 1971 — if it took place even then.

The senate also voted to allocate $200 to CIRUNA for a trip to the mock United Nations, and $300 to Phi Theta Kappa to cover expenses for the national convention in Florida. Missouri Southern's Tom Laster is president of the national honorary organization.

Senate members voted to sponsor a bloodmobile drive on campus. Plans for the drive will be announced at a later date.

A turtle representing Missouri Southern College will be entered in the American University Turtle Race in Washington, D.C., this spring. Senators voted to spend $5 to purchase a turtle for the national event. An additional $10 will be necessary if the senators wish to employ a trainer for the turtle.

A motion to rescind the motion appropriating funds to CIRUNA and Phi Theta Kappa was defeated in a roll call vote at the Feb. 12 senate meeting. Senate rules were suspended and a lengthy discussion was held on the issue. Following a five minute recess, when senators were allowed to talk freely among themselves, the roll call was taken with 13 senators voting against rescinding the motion, nine for, and four abstentions. The motion stands as it was passed at the Feb. 5 meeting, with funds being given to the two clubs.

It also was announced that the College Union Board will sponsor buses to the basketball game between MSC and Southwest Baptist College at Bolivar.

The Beat Goes On -- All the Way to NAIA?

The Lions won their 20th game of the season Saturday with a 67-65 win over Sacred Heart. Bill Adams led a balanced Southern attack with 13 points to avenge last year's defeat at the hands of the Jets. Ironically, the Lions won with the same score the Jets won with last year. The final regularly scheduled game of the season for the Lions is February 24 against Southwest Baptist at Bolivar, Mo.

The Lions won their 19th game of the season Feb. 9, with a 68-56 drubbing of the Culver-Stockton Wildcats of Canton, Mo. Reserves Ray Krogh and Gary Wofford ignited rallies that stretched the Lion lead. Wofford hit three quick fielders in the first half and Krogh hit two straight in the second half.

Bill Wagner led the Lions in scoring with 20 points. Fred Hatfield, who now leads the NAIA District 16 scoring race, had 16.

Wildcats	28	28 — 56
Southern	33	35 — 68

The Kangaroos of the University of Missouri-Kansas City were sent hopping back to K.C. Feb. 7 when the Lions, paced by freshman John Thomas and junior Fred Hatfield, scored victory No. 18 of the season in the Homecoming test. The final tally was 79-70, a suitable vengeance for the 75-68 setback UMKC gave the Lions last December. The victory kept the Lions in the running for a berth in the NAIA District 16 Tourney. Thomas and Hatfield had 18 points apiece for the Lions.

Mary Ann Parnell, Anderson, Mo., was crowned Homecoming Queen before another capacity crowd.

Denny Signs Pro Contract

A Lion Pride griddler has signed a professional football contract with the Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Dave Denny, senior tight end for Missouri Southern last fall, is the first product of the four-year college to sign with a professional football league.

At 6-3 and 215 pounds, the 22-year-old Denny will be used at the tight end position by the Canadian team.

Denny, an education major, graduated from Golden City High School where he also participated in track and basketball.

Gorillas Growl But Lions Purr to Sweet 71-60 Revenge

In perhaps what will be considered the most significant game of the season, the MSC basketball Lions "killed the Gorilla," with a 71-60 conquest of Kansas State College of Pittsburg. The victory marks the first occasion of a Lion victory over a Gorilla athletic team. A capacity crowd of approximately 2,800 watched 6-3 Ray Krogh of Windsor, Mo., spark a first half rally which brought the halftime score to 39-29 in favor of the Lions.

In all, Krogh hit for 10 points, as did Bill Wagner. Fred (The Hat) Hatfield led the scoring with 21 points and John Thomas followed with 17. The win avenged an 85-79 loss Jan. 8, at the hands of KSC and brought the Lion record to 17-5.
